手工拉面 Handpulled Noodles^a

Our homemade noodles

"LaLa-Noodles"

拉拉面

Enjoy the traditional Chinese dish of handmade wide noodles, which has gained great popularity worldwide. These noodles are known for their unique texture and flavor.

The production of these wide noodles requires skill and experience. Through careful kneading, pulling, and shaping of flour and water, wide and flat noodle sheets are created. These sheets are then hand-cut into strips of the desired width, slightly wider than regular noodles. When cooked, the wide noodles retain their shape, giving them a chewy and satisfying texture.

Our handmade wide noodles offer you a special homemade taste and a touch of traditional charm. They contain no additives, making them healthier and more authentic.

„Tapas Chinese style “

点心

The Chinese term "Dim Sum" is used for all kinds of snacks and small bites. Literally translated, Dim Sum means "touching the heart" (in the sense of "small delectable bites that touch the heart"). They originate from Cantonese cuisine in China and are often associated with traditional tea houses. Dim Sum can be found in countless variations and price ranges, especially in the southern and eastern parts of China. They are like Chinese tapas, consisting of small dishes that are typically served with classic Chinese tea, often in small bamboo baskets.

The bamboo baskets, with a diameter of approximately 20cm, can be stacked on top of each other for steaming, with the top one being covered. Each basket has a bamboo or sometimes metal grid where the dishes are placed. It is common to enhance the meal with soy sauce or other sauces, some of which may be spicy, according to personal taste. The majority of Dim Sum dishes consist of filled dumplings. The fillings can include various types of meat, seafood, vegetables, and even sweet ingredients.

„Lu Cai“ 现捞现卤鲜香

"Lu Cai" is a traditional Chinese dish where meat or vegetables are marinated with a sauce made from 5 spices and slowly braised on low heat. This allows the flavors of star anise, Sichuan pepper, ginger, bay leaves, cinnamon, as well as rice wine and soy sauce to infuse into the meat or vegetables. These spices give the dishes a unique and spicy flavour.
